

Will Lathrop

Will Lathrop worked as an Oregon deputy district attorney for nine years, mostly as a Special Victims Unit prosecutor for child sexual assault and abuse. He was hired by International Justice Mission in 2015 to lead a multinational team to combat violent raids against widows and orphans.

Will graduated from Joseph High School before attending the University of Puget Sound, where he earned his bachelor's degree in politics and government. He then attended Willamette University College of Law and earned his Juris Doctorate. He was admitted to the Oregon State Bar in 2004 and has been an attorney for 18 years.

Will is married and has a 7-year-old son. When not working, he enjoys learning about foreign cultures and history, playing sports and the guitar, and spending time on this family's cattle ranch in Joseph.
